

ACJ

THE ASSOCIATION FOR CONTEMPORARY JEWELLERY

Presents three events as part of
Collections 2008 in conjunction with collect

Evolution House, Edinburgh College of Art,
74 Lauriston Place. EH3 9DE

Gijs Bakker 2001 Ferrari Dino
From the series 'I Don't Wear Jewels, I Drive Them'
Photo: Rien azen

Talk – 'Jewellery, Craft and Design – Collection Perspectives'

Two highly respected National Museums Scotland curators, Rose Watban, Senior Curator of Applied Arts and Design, and Jane Wilkinson, Curator of East and Central Asia, present a personal perspective on collecting contemporary jewellery, in the broader context of collecting contemporary applied art and design today. The talk conveys the excitement of building a collection, and aims to stimulate interest in contemporary jewellery practice.

Evolution House Learning Zone, Wednesday 6 February 2008, 6.30pm for a 7pm start

Book launch and reception – 'Jewellers the Directory'

A reception to celebrate the work of the ACJ and to launch its brand new directory showcasing members' work. Importantly, the directory increases the visibility of contemporary jewellers, and offers a rich visual survey of a wide range of contemporary jewellers' work across the whole of the UK.

Evolution House Boardroom, Fifth Floor,
Edinburgh College of Art, Wednesday 6 February 2008, 8pm

Exhibition – 'Reveal'

The inaugural show of ACJ Scotland, featuring work by contemporary jewellery makers and designers based in Scotland, and presented at the prestigious Edinburgh College of Art. The exhibition aims to introduce the group and its work to contemporary craft and design collectors and wider audiences in Edinburgh and Scotland, and premieres new pieces especially created for this Collection show. Work will cover a range of media and contemporary jewellery practice.

Evolution House Foyer, until Wednesday 6 February 2008,
Open Monday to Friday, 10am - 5pm, admission free

All events are free but advance booking required for the talk and launch. Please reserve your place at enquiries@acj.org.uk

These events are supported by Edinburgh College of Art

THE ASSOCIATION FOR CONTEMPORARY JEWELLERY
PO Box 37807, London SE23 1XJ. www.acj.org.uk